James F. Breuil

OWNER, BUFFALO BILLS

Long-time athlete and sportsman and President of the Frontier Oil Refining Corp., Buffalo, New York. A football player in prep school and college, Jim has maintained an intense and active interest in all athletics for years; has been influential in his company's sponsorship of amateur teams and the broadcasting of sports events. He owns his own airplane and shoots golf in the low 70's.

Jim became interested in professional football before the advent of the All-America Conference. Having been an ardent supporter of Buffalo sports for years, he felt the upstate industrial center certainly was of major league sports stature. As a consequence, when the All-America Football conference was growing into more than a conversation piece, Breuil immediately became interested and active in its formation. He has spared no expense, time or effort to prove that his contention about Buffalo is correct.

Jim Breuil has more than a financial interest in the Buffalo Bills. He accompanies the team on all trips, knows personally every one of the players, and for that matter, a goodly share of the club's host of supporters.

Lowell (Red) Dawson

HEAD COACH, BUFFALO BILLS

In the waning days of May, 1946, when owner James F. Breuil sought a man to build a worthy representative for Buffalo in the All-America Conference, he was attracted by the reputation of Lowell "Red" Dawson, a Tulane alumnus. It took exactly 35 minutes for Breuil and Red Dawson to reach an agreement at their first meeting.

In putting his 1948 Bills on the gridiron, Dawson is marking his 17th season as a coach. After performing as a quarterback for Bernie Bierman at Tulane, climaxed by participation in the 1932 Rose Bowl classic against Southern California, Bierman had enough respect for the youthful redhead's knowledge of football to want him as an assistant when he moved to the University of Minnesota to take over the head mentorship of the Gophers. Dawson served under Bierman as backfield coach for four years and his progress as a teacher reflected in the success of the Gophers on the gridiron, propelled him into a top spot of his own.

In 1936, when Dawson was still on the sunny side of 30, Tulane recalled him as head coach. In 6 years at the Louisiana institution, Dawson's teams won 36, lost 18, and tied 4 in the strenuous Southern conference and intersectional competition. Highlight of Red's stay at Tulane was the undefeated 1939 season when his team was invited to the Sugar Bowl as an opponent of Texas A. & M. In 1940 Red was a member of the College All Stars coaching staff as an aide to Doctor Eddie Anderson.

In 1942, Dawson left Tulane to return to Minnesota as an assistant to Dr. George Hauser while Bierman was serving in the U. S. Marines.

Coach Dawson is as streamlined today as he was when he weighed 165 lbs. as a college star. He started his football career in 1925, his last year at River Falls High School, in his birthplace, River Falls, Wisconsin.

CLEM CROWE

JOHN SCAFIDE

Clem Crowe, Line Coach, second season with the Bills. Coach Crowe, who signed George Ratterman for the Bills, first achieved fame as one of the Seven Mules to the Four Horsemen at Notre Dame in 1923-24, becoming captain in his senior year, with the label "the fastest man I ever coached" pinned on him by the illustrious Rockne. Crowe went into coaching after graduation, remaining six years at St. Vincent's College, in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, then serving for twelve years as head coach at Xavier College. In 1944 Crowe returned to Notre Dame as Line Coach and took over as Head Coach at the University of Iowa in 1945. Crowe also was head basketball coach at Notre Dame in 1944 and under his direction the Notre Dame quintet compiled the highest scoring total in the school's history. George Ratterman was one of the outstanding players on that quintet.

John Scafide, a teammate of Dawson's at Tulane and later on assistant coach at Minnesota with Red, alternates his line coaching chores with that of chief scout. Scafide enjoys a fine reputation as a keen analyst, and, like Dawson, is a student of the game.

Three former college head football coaches, under the guidance of Lowell (Red) Dawson, form the nucleus of the Buffalo All-America Conference board of strategy.

Dawson was the guiding light at Tulane University, after an apprenticeship under

WM. (RED) CONKWRIGHT CHARLES JASKWHICH

Bernie Bierman at Minnesota. One of the Green Wave's better halfbacks in the early 1930s, Dawson has the distinction of having played in the 1932 Rose Bowl Game.

Dawson's penchant for details as a player under Bierman so impressed the coach that Red was appointed assistant coach a year after his graduation from Tulane, when Bierman changed from Tulane to Minnesota. Three years later Dawson was back at Tulane as head coach.

A newcomer to the Buffalo ranks this year is Wm. (Red) Conkwright, End and Center Coach, who is a graduate of Oklahoma University. Red played pro football with Chicago Bears and Cleveland Rams from 1937 through 1944, and scouted and coached the ends for the Rams in 1945. Last year Conkwright was end and center coach of the Champion Cleveland Browns.

Charles "Chuck" Jaskwhich, backfield coach of the Buffalo Bills, is a graduate of Notre Dame where he quarterbacked Rockne's last team in 1940, continuing for two more seasons under Hunk Anderson. Chuck began his coaching career as Head Coach at Holy Cross Prep School in New Orleans, going from there to the University of Mississippi as backfield coach, then to Georgia Preflight in the same capacity, and in 1945 Jaskwhich was backfield coach at Iowa working with Clem Crowe, then Head Coach at Iowa.

GEORGE Edward DOHERTY

T-G, 6-1 218 Louisiana Tech

Born: 5Sep20, Camden MS

GIL (Cactus Face) DUGGAN

popular 6' 3", 235-pound left tackle with the Buffalo Bills. It was a break for the Bills when "Red" Dawson had the opportunity to draft this veteran Pro-ball player from the Los Angeles Dons at the beginning of this season. Opposing linemen and backs are duly respectful of that name "Duggan" and when calling a play through his position they usually find the play that should of worked, would of worked if it hadn't been for a guy named Duggan. A fine leader, Gil is a steady influence on the Pro-ball "freshmen" with the Bills. Good-natured Gil, (you wouldn't think so by his aggressive line-play) is an Oklahoma State Trooper during the off-season.

EVANS, FRED (DIPPY)—One of the hardest running backs in Notre Dame football history, Dippy was the leading scorer for the 1941 undefeated Irish national champions. He kept the championship habit, playing for the Randolph Field Ramblers, national service kings, in 1944; the Fort Worth A.A.F. titleholders in 1945, and the Cleveland Browns of the A.A.F.C. in 1946.

He is married and lives in Cleveland.

GEORGE GROVES

At Tulsa, Chubby made All Missouri Valley Conference and All-American Honorable Mention in 1945 and was voted the best blocking and tackling lineman for Tulsa the same year. He participated in the Orange Bowl game of 1945 and the Oil Bowl Game of 1945. Besides being one of the biggest men in football today, Chub makes a specialty of place kicking. He measures 55 inches around the waist, 81 around the thigh and five feet around the shoulders.

After graduation entered Illinois University and performed for the Illini in 1941 and 1942 before joining the Marines. While with the Leathernecks attended the V-12 course at Purdue and was instrumental in the 1943 championship won by the Boilermakers that season. After his hitch with the Marines, Kasap returned to his original choice of schools and finished his college days at Illinois in 1946.

He finally recovered from the injury and reported to the Rams in 1945 but suffered a back injury early in the season and saw little action thereafter. Before being hurt he ran 54 yards to a touchdown against New York and showed plenty of drive. He operates a 3900-acre family ranch near Groesbeck, Texas, and coaches high school football when he is not playing. He is married and has one child. He plays right halfback.

RAY KUFFEL

210-pound, 6' 3" Left End from Marquette University. A head injury during the Bill-Colts exhibition at Hershey, Pa. last August has kept Ray out of action most of this season.

Equally talented as an end in football and a forward in basketball, Kuff interrupted a bright varsity span at Marquette university to play with Notre Dame's national grid champions in 1943 as a service trainee. He was selected as an end on the Catholic All-American team while in college and was known throughout the All-American Conference as a rock on defense

Now in dental school in Milwaukee, he is engaged to be married.

Professional experience: Buffalo Bills in 1946

At Central High School Kulbitski played Guard and Fullback on the football team and also was nominated All State in 1939. KODBA, JOSEPH (JOE)

Born on February 27, 1922 at South Bend, Indiana. Learned his football at Butler University where he played in 1941 and 1942. Joined the Army in 1942 and spent three years in the infantry. After his tour of duty with Uncle Sam, Joe continued his college career but this time at Purdue. His prowess on the football field won him a regular berth on the Boilermaker's eleven and he was selected to play in the North-South game in 1945 and just recently returned from the Chicago Bear - All Star game in Chicago where he was a member of the victorious collegian squad. Kodba played last season under his present coach, Cecil Isbell and was captain of the team in its final game against Indiana.

PUG MANDERS

FULLBACK--In some brash moment, the parents of Pug Manders called their baby Clarence. No given name ever fitted so poorly. Clarence grew up into the biggest, toughest fullback in the NFL and anyone who has ever seen a pro grid contest calls him "Pug". He is in his third year with the Dodgers. Pug came to Brooklyn after graduation from Drake U. in Iowa and now rates as Sutherland's No. 1 fullback. A brother of Automatic Jack Manders of the Bears, he was born in Milbanks, South Dakota but now lives in Des Moines, Ia. Is married and has a son.

MASKAS, JOHN—Tackle
Monessen, Pa.

Ht. 5.11 1/2 Wt. 212

One of few foreign born players in game, birthplace being Chios, Greece. Married and lives in Seville, Ohio.

VINCE MAZZA

It is fitting that the city of Niagara Falls and the Niagara Falls Quarterback Club have chosen this day, Navy Day, to honor Vince Mazza. Vince certainly is a bulwark of defense for the Buffalo Bills. Mazza, 6-foot 1-inch, 215-pounds plays defensive left end for the Buffalo Bills. A graduate of Trott Vocational, at Niagara Falls, Vince is the only player on the Buffalo Bills squad that did not play College football. It was this factor that kept Vince half-packed at the Bills training camp this summer and many a morning he would say, "Guess they'll send me home today." But Vince had the stuff to make it and the coaches were quick to recognize his spirit. Today you'll see Vince Mazza of Niagara Falls, who made it the hard way, in action as first string defensive left end for the Buffalo Bills.
